

WHAT IS WAREHOUSING?

Warehousing is the storage of goods with the aim of distribution of sale. Effective warehousing allows businesses to have secure temporary storage of their products in bulk before shipping them with further purposes.

Consolidation Service

Cargo consolidation is when staff combines cargo from multiple shippers into one shipment. This means that shippers pay bulk rates because they're shipping all cargo at the same time. SWWLS China warehouses can do that to lower shipping costs for your business.

Repackaging and Enforcing Services

SWWLS also provides a repackaging service. So if you have custom packaging for your order, we can fulfill that.

Enforcing is similar to repackaging. We will make sure to pack fragile goods extra carefully, so they reach their destination undamaged

Custom Labelling Service

Customized labelling is another prep service SWWLS warehouses offer. Be that special safety labels or your business logo, we can stick a custom label onto your order.

Quality Control Service

Our China warehouses are secure and reliable. Upon arrival, your products are carefully inspected. We always check product quantity and quality to make sure that your goods are okay.

A complete quality control check inspects:

- Product specifications
- Labeling & marking
- Acceptance quality limit (AQL) testing
